THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSING OF THE RAILWAY BILL.

Council of 1902 Holds Its Last Meeting and Closes Up Business By Passing and Adopting the Lac Seul Railway By-law. Few Changes in the Text.

The Board of Aldermen met last night to hold the closing session of the term, Mayor Cameron in the chair and all members present.

A petition for improvements from 50 ratepayers in the vicinity of East River street was received. Communications were read from P. L'Heureux, secretary of Separate Schools, W. C. Brent, the de-benture man J. E. Alcock foreman of the waterworks applying for a raise of salary, Campbell Bros, Allan McLennan re the Verker block claim of damages against the town, and A. M. Rose the tax gatherer, saying that he had collected over $45,000.

The finance committee recommended the payment of a number of small accounts amounting to $403.94. A cheque for $5,000 was authorized for issue in favor of the Board of Education, and one for $400 in favor of the Separate schools.

The question of a raise of salary for foreman Alcock was debated at some length, Alderman Horswill moving for the increase. The foreman's wages had been raised once this year and the Aldermen were of the opinion, that an increase each year was sufficient guarantee that a servant's work was appreciated.

The by-law authorizing the holding of nominations and elections for the municipal council was read the third time and finally passed.

On motion the council went into committee for consideration of the Lac Seul Railway by law with Alderman McCarthy in the chair. The measure was taken clause by clause and discussed at some length. The chairman thought, where practicable the company should use the town's electric poles instead of erecting new ones, and that the company should haul snow away instead of spreading it over the streets when the council so directed.

The chairman made a motion that the town should have the use of the company's rails within the municipal limits after the lapse of 25 years. This motion was carried by a vote of 10 to 2.

Gentlemen:—
I was over your property

there. Vein No. 1, where sinking is be- rich. In fact spotted with gold and should pay well. I think it is a good point to sink on to test the vein at low- er depths. No. 2 vein has improved

HE BROKE FAITH WITH US!

The chairman of the Board of Wks., solemnly promised as that the water would be off on Thursday last, and we gullibly put a notice in the Miner to that effect. It is all very well for Mr. Horwill to make statements he cannot back up, but when it comes to dragging us in to father well, those statements, it is not all very well. It places us in a very distressing predicament, to be called upon to explain to wage householders whom we have persuaded with our notice, to rustle around and find barrels and tubs to store water in and who most likely spent some hours scrubbing the receptacles, and making a horrid mess all over the kitchen.

This reminds us of a little story, we will tell for Mr. Horwill's benefit.

Once upon a time there was a prophet of great renown who was worshipped by the people because of his great prophecies and remarkable piety. He was a long distance prophet—that is he foretold things which would take place after a million years or so, and such was the admiration of the multitude for the man who could look so far into the future, that they loaded him with all kinds of presents, dates, (not engagement dates) bananas, grain, cattle, goats, and other hardware, until at last he got stuck on himself and he told the people that in twice seven days the heavens would rain fire, and every mother's son of them would be destroyed off the face of the earth.

The people believed him, and they simply cashed in and broke up the game. They put ash in their pockets and wore sackcloth pants, the canvas factories having to run night and day to supply the market.

At last the seventh day twice came around, and the insurance companies prepared for a slump in their stocks. The prophet got up on top of a high mountain, and cast one eye on the unpromising sky and the other over his line of communications on the west side of the mountain.

Of course it didn't rain fire, and the people got mad about it and caught the prophet just as he was trying to slip down the mountain side. It was in vain that the prophet told the people that they ought to give thanks that it didn't rain fire, which would have made things

THE REPORTER IS GUILTY.

Three Swedish gentlemen called on us, Saturday to point out an error made by our reporter, in writing up the Norman fire. He said he saw among the vast crowds who were watching the conflagration, a knot of Swedes. From what we can gather at this late date, it appears that this was not so, as according to our visitors' verbal evidence all the Swedes in Norman were fighting the fire. The reporter was asked if he knew a Swede when he saw one, and he answered without hesitation, "why certainly," but when he was requested to state how he knew a Swede from a Frenchman or an Irishman, he couldn't explain. We are therefore constrained to give judgment against the reporter and order him to pay the costs, though we have not the faintest idea how he is going to do it.

MEMORY.

For ONE a faithful Memory Volume.
Old Joys, and re-creates past Happiness.
The idylls of a golden childhood rise
Like fairy scenes in Youth's Elysium.
The school-ground fight is fought all o'er again -
And beaten lies the bully on the grass;
ONE hears once more the lusty schoolboy cheers,
And feels the Triumph burning on his cheek.
He smells again the pungent pines and sees
The haughty hemlock standing by the gate.
A maid of ten with golden ringlets smiles,
Revealing midst the Carmine, rows of pearls,
And though by decades counts the years since then
He feels those hurrying heart-throbs as of old.
My Memory relentless, accurate,
In fiery letters graven on my brain,
Reiterates a record of misdeeds.
My Baser nature o'er my better holds
A mortgage since it yielded long ago.
And now old Wounds that Time would granulate
My ruthless Recollection bares again.
With jagged steel, and opens them afresh.
Alert is Conscience ever, wearying not
In ceaseless accusation, Hailing Death,
I shun my advent - then I call again.
The agonies of Mind intenser grow.
And old Sores bleed anew with keener sting.
As I draw nearer to the Judgment Bar.

AUG. P. MULVEY

CHURCH OF CHRIST.

Inasmuch as Mr. G. W. Nutterson, desirous to have Lady Hall for his own use the Church of Christ which has held its services there for more than three years, will hold its next meeting on the 27th inst. at 8 o'clock, in Mr. Nicholson's Hall, on Main Street. Nicholson's Hall is a pleasant room on the second floor, and the people of that Portage are most sincerely and cordially invited, to attend the meeting of the church in their new place of meeting. They will add their next services in Nicholson's Hall next Sunday, Dec. 28, morning and evening.
Mr. P. Hayden, the successor of Mr. Joseph Kevel, as minister of this church is a preacher of liberal education and large experience. He is a graduate of Hiram College, Hiram, Ohio, receiving the degree of Bachelor of Arts in 1872 and that of Master of Arts in 1876. Ten years have he pursued post-graduate studies under A. C. Dwyer, President of the University of Chicago. He has been a diligent student all his life.

both of the Bible and of the problems of society, social, political, industrial and religious. He is an able speaker and his sermons are carefully prepared. Those who hear him, are well repaid for attending. He has been in the Christian ministry thirty-four years.
The Disciples of Christ are a great and growing people. According to the latest statistics, they have in the United States, 6,411 ministers and 1,307,377 members, in all countries they have 7,143 ministers, and over one and one-fourth million communicants. Last year they gave for missions, $621,441, and for all purposes $6,193,667.
In doctrine they are evangelical and biblical, adhering faithfully to the teaching of God's holy word, and pleading for the union of Christians. Upon the Bible alone their plea is a grand one, being divine and their position worthy of the thoughtful and candid investigation of all professing Christians. They do not claim that they are the only Christians, they simply profess to be Christians only.

CURED BY
COLONIAL REMEDY.

No taste. No odor. Can be given to girls or women, tea, or coffee, without patient's knowledge. Colonial Remedy will cure or destroy the disease, and the cure has been many. In many cases the Remedy was given secretly. It cures gonorrhea and is a confirmed "tippler." It is a powerful and safe remedy for anyone who has an appetite for alcoholic liquors after doing harm to themselves.

Indorsed by Members of W. C. T. U.
Mrs. Moore, Superintendent of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, Ventura, Cal., writes: "I have used Colonial Remedy on very chronic gonorrhea, and the cure has been many. In many cases the Remedy was given secretly. It cures gonorrhea and is a confirmed "tippler." It is a powerful and safe remedy for anyone who has an appetite for alcoholic liquors after doing harm to themselves."
